

Stay connected and current with the subscription model

You need more than a support contract – you need a collaborative relationship.
That's why Siemens works with you to understand what you want and provide the expertise you need, from proof of concept to production deployment.

Updates

With the subscription model, which is part of the Xcelerator™ portfolio, the comprehensive and integrated portfolio of software and services from Siemens Digital Industries Software, you always have the latest version of your software.

Access

With a subscription, you have access to the documentation, knowledgebase, tools and technical support you need to keep your systems running smoothly and efficiently. Additionally, there are always resources available to help you quickly solve problems.

Partners

Siemens partners are certified to help you spend less time solving challenges during your projects so you can focus on growing your business.

Flexible

Our subscriptions give you the freedom to choose from multiple supported versions so you can upgrade on your schedule. Our software is also compatible with other systems.

Experienced

Siemens knowledge and industry insight helps identify emerging technologies and transform them into solutions that meet your current and future software needs.

Cost savings

Fixed costing makes life easier: A subscription is less expensive than buying upgrades no matter how often you choose to do so.
